Lunarfin's President's Notes

Hello to my diving family,

I hope your year has gotten off to a great start, due to scheduling conflicts with Bayland community center the TGCC banquet was moved to Saturday February 7 so we will not be able to attend the Mardi Gras parade on the sea wall. We have to cancel it as all the organizers will all be at the Banquet. Hopefully the stars will line up better next year.

It would be great to see everyone at the TGCC this Saturday. Tickets are available through JaVan and the details are in this newsletter.

For the February 17th meeting we are going to have a fun and interesting performance from two of my favorite people and story creators, Dennis Deavenport and Justin Wallace, if you have not had the pleasure of being entertained by these two yet be sure to come, it is always a great show.

We have an opportunity on the board for a Social Director if anyone is interested you can contact any board member and we will be happy to talk to you about it.

Cathy has put together a fun new social for us, she is hosting a Bingo night on February 21st from 6pm to 8pm at Spring Creek BBQ. (Page 9) Don't forget to mark your calendar and bring your friends and family for a fun time.

For those that are supporting AWCA again this year you do not need to fill out the application on page 14 just contact Mark Leiserowitz to re-up. If you are new, then we do need you to mail the registration page in.

This year we made donations to Sea Camp scholarships, The Turtle Conservation, Adaptable (in honor of "Pappa" Joe Haws) and to help HUFF with complementary tickets for students to attend the film festival.

Just a gentle reminder that annual memberships are renewed in January. If you are old school like me, you can mail a check or you can re-up electronically. The details are on page 17.

If there is something you would like to do for a social event let one of us know and we will be happy to help put it together with you.

I hope to see everyone soon.

Keep your mask wet and your fins up

Brion Saathoff :-)

Happy Birthday to you!

Lunarfin's Raffle — Let's Make Some Money

Lunarfin's will be offering raffle items at meetings. Tickets will be very reasonable and the items raffled off will be interesting and worth having. Cathy Strahan, Ja Van Pruett Dwire and Dennis Deavenport have regularly donated for the Raffle.

Each month will have at least one item to pick from and you will not know until you come and see what is being offered... Bring a little Mad Money to the meeting to help Lunarfins earn money for social events. If you have something you would like to donate please contact JaVan Pruett at <caladyfish@gmail.com>, she would love to hear from you.

Since we didn't have a December meeting they were no winners for Raffle winners, but at the Christmas Party everybody was a winner. At the January meeting we will start our Raffle drawings again. Thanks again and come to the meetings.

Seaside Chats

February 4, 18, and March 4, 6:30 p.m. CT

What is photogrammetry? How did 1,700 pounds of marine debris get removed from Stetson Bank? Are Regal Demoiselle fish the next invasive species in the sanctuary?

Answers to all of these questions are coming soon in the form of Seaside Chats, our annual speaker series about science and conservation happenings in and around Flower Garden Banks National Marine Sanctuary

These presentations take place on Wednesday evenings, from 6:30-7:30 p.m. (Central Time).

- Presentations are FREE and presented via webinar. Our speakers include sanctuary staff and guests from partner organizations.
- Anyone is welcome to attend, but presentation content is most suited to those in middle school and above. In fact, these programs make excellent extra credit assignments for students.
- We are happy to provide attendance certificates for all participants and continuing professional education (CPE) hours for teachers.
- All webinars are recorded, then captioned and posted to the National Marine Sanctuaries and FGBNMS websites.

More information about each of the presentations and links to webinar registration can be found on the Seaside Chats page of the FGBNMS website.

TGCC Awards Programs

One of the purposes and objectives of TGCC, as specified in the TGCC Constitution, is to “provide recognition for outstanding contributors to the dive community”. TGCC accomplishes this through its various Awards Programs, which are designed to “promote education in the dive community” and to “encourage, coordinate and promote cooperation” among divers and member clubs. The TGCC 1st Vice President normally oversees these programs, which are defined in the TGCC Bylaws and its Attachments. These awards are typically presented at the annual TGCC Awards Banquet.

Members of the Year – for each club will be to Recognize an individual for work done for TGCC and/or the dive community.

Neptune Award – A point based individual award based upon events. events/contests sanctioned by TGCC. (See TGCC By-Laws – Attachment 1)

About our Members Congratulations!!

Diver of the Year

Lunarfins First Ever Bingo Night!

Save The Date!

Please join us for a night of fun and laughter at our first ever Lunarfins Bingo Night!

February 21st 6PM-8PM

Spring Creek Barbecue

2710 Gulf Freeway, League City (Same place as our meetings)

All Lunarfins members, children, family and friends are encouraged to join in on the fun!

Why: With the cancellation of our February event of Mardi Gras on the Beach this will be our fun event for the month! The Mardi Gras event had to be cancelled due to scheduling conflicts with the TGCC Award Luncheon, using the Bayland Community Center and the date for the Mardi Gras Parade along the Seawall in Galveston.

Particulars: We will play approximately 10 Bingo Games, with each game taking about 10-15 minutes. That of course depends on the game style that is played. If we are playing a blackout game where the whole card needs to be marked that might take a little longer, but one like foursquare where only the four corners need to be marked that one will be a bit quicker.

Prizes for the winners of each round. In the event of a tie, both winners will be able to choose a prize. For the last game we will be offering a grand prize of $25 for the evening!

If you want to participate, there will be a limited number of highlighter markers available to mark your bingo card with. We will also have some bingo chips to mark your card with, but if your card gets bumped the chips will move around and are not the best to use. If you have a bingo dabbler or highlighter marker that you can use, please bring it. Sharpies are not the best idea either as we will have to confirm a winning card and will need to be able to read the winning numbers.

Costs: There will be a $2 entry fee for each participant. That will get you 2 packs of 5 different colored bingo cards. Ten cards total and one-color card for each game that is played. Additional 5 packs of colored cards can be purchased for $.50 or single game 2 pack cards will be available for the cost of $.25. This will give players the chance to opt out of any rounds they choose not to play. Please bring some ones and fives with you, I will have some change but smaller bills will be most welcome! I will be accepting Zelle payments for this event also!

Sodas, beer or wine can be purchased at the restaurant as well as dinner.

We could use a volunteer to be a "runner" someone that could move the mic around when a bingo is called, help with confirming a winning ticket and to help get everyone checked in a paid for. Also to be roaming the floor in case of questions or anything else unforeseen comes up! Volunteers anyone??

Hopefully I have covered all the questions that might arise! But if you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to JaVan or myself, or feel free to ask at our February meeting!

We hope to make this a family fun yearly event or depending on interest a bi-annual event that will help keep Lunarfins a fun diving club! A club that not only has informative information related to the diving world along with dive related activities and trips, but also as a social club that organizes activities such as this one, beach picnics, Christmas parties and Mardi Gras events. If anyone has an idea for a trip or fun activity, please see JaVan or let us know at one of our meetings! We love hearing about any new or good ideas!

Who is ready for some Bingo Fun, Prizes and Camaraderie! We would love to see you there!

Just found out that KHOU 11 News found Nemo and will screen some more of my underwater footage as their "Moment of Zen" tonight. Twice this week, KHOU 11 News, the most-watched news source in the greater Houston area, used some of our underwater scenes for the "Moment of Zen" that closes their 10:34pm newscast. These images were captured off Apo Island when I was a delegate for the Department of Tourism - Philippines and hosted by Atlantis Dive Resorts & Diveboards. The diving there was glorious.

So it's come to this. Hanging out with sports stars, and I'm not even into sports. Still, it was pretty cool to work with Alex Bregman, who hosted the Houston Sports Awards last night. Lauren Kelly interviewed Alex during the dress rehearsal the night before, then we shot some more on the purple carpet. Look for the results on Houston Life, coming soon to a telly near you. # 80 million-year-old sea turtle stampede

Sent in by Mike Peters

January 26, 2026

Scientists say grooves on a rock face overlooking the Adriatic Sea may have been made by sea turtles fleeing an earthquake.

Rock climbers in Italy stumbled across evidence of what appears to be a sea turtle stampede that took place nearly 80 million years ago. Now, new research suggests these ancient marine reptiles were fleeing from an earthquake.

The climbers recognized the significance of their find because the grooves in the rock face on Monte Cònero overlooking the Adriatic Sea reminded them of others that had made headlines earlier that year. Those grooves had been found in another part of the same regional park and were attributed to a Cretaceous marine reptile pressing its paddles into the seafloor. They consulted with fellow-climber and geologist, Paolo Sandroni, who got in touch with Alessandro Montanari, director of the Coldigioco Geological Observatory (OGC).

After an investigation into what these grooves might be, researchers revealed their findings in a study published Nov. 19 in the journal Cretaceous Research.

Sandroni and another member of the team climbed back to the area to collect rock samples and document the site using a drone.

Hundreds of these tracks are located on a layer of the Scaglia Rossa limestone in Cònero Regional Park, a formation that has been extensively studied for decades and preserves millions of years of deep-sea sedimentation, study co-author Montanari told Live Science.

What is now part of a mountain was once a deep seabed folded over and thrust upward by tectonic forces millions of years ago, he said. Rock samples collected immediately above the tracks and analyzed by the team reveal important clues about the tracks' location and the story behind them. For example, they suggest the sea turtles lived around 79 million years ago during the Late Cretaceous Period and indicate that the limestone was part of an underwater avalanche of mud triggered by an earthquake.

Abundant seismic activity in this formation is also supported by decades of collective study. Thin sections slide of the rock samples reveal microfossils of organisms that live along the seafloor, suggesting a hundreds-of-meters deep seafloor environment.

Normally, any traces left by animals would be erased by currents at the sea bottom and "worms, clams and [other] benthic organisms," Montanari said. "They basically garden the seafloor," he noted. But an earthquake caused an underwater avalanche within minutes of the tracks being made, preserving them, he said.

The only vertebrates big enough to make these tracks in the Late Cretaceous were marine reptiles such as sea turtles, plesiosaurs and mosasaurs. The latter two are believed to have been largely solitary, but, if ancient sea turtle behavior mirrored that of some of today's species, the researchers said, then it is possible they may have foraged near shore or left the water to lay their eggs. Whatever brought them together, an earthquake caused them all to flee at once, the team suggested in the study, forcing some of the turtles to swim in the water above toward the open sea, and others to scurry away closer to the deeper seafloor. The impending underwater avalanche propelled them even further out

You should have been at January General Meeting --It was Great!

The Lunarfin's Scuba Club was organized in 1963 by a small group of divers who worked at the Manned Spacecraft Center, as Johnson Space Center (JSC) was known back then. The club grew primarily through the sponsorship of SCUBA training classes, local dive trips and social activities. Since that time, membership has broadened to include anyone interested in diving. The majority of our members are in some way affiliated with NASA but this is not a requirement for membership and we have members from all across the board.
